

COVER LETTER FOR SUBMISSION OF A PAPER TO JOURNAL OF BIOENERGY AND FOOD SCIENCE

Palmas, Tocantins, Brasil. 12/11/2018.

Dear Editor the Journal of Bioenergy and Food Science,

I wish to submit a new manuscript entitled "Analysis of the possible effects of climate change on the cultivation of sugarcane and Eucalyptus in the state of Tocantins" for consideration. I confirm that this work is original and has not been published elsewhere nor is it currently under consideration for publication elsewhere. In this paper.

The paper addresses the "agroenergy crops and climate change" and is important because "Projections of GHG emission scenarios and effects on agriculture". The paper should be of interest to readers in the of area "Agroenergy and Climatology".

The analysis of the possible effects of climate change on the agroclimatic zoning of semi-perennial agroenergy crops (sugarcane and eucalyptus) is very important because it may be an appropriate strategy to identify potential areas favorable to cultivation for a long time because investments in these sectors are expensive and involve large territorial areas.
